After the end of World War II, the airship base at Naval Air Station Glynco in northern Glynn County lost its status as an active base. Glynco was the Only airship base in the United States and the only one in the world designed specifically for airships. The base was on track for full closure when tensions in Korea pointed to the danger of another war. Antisubmarine warfare, a priority once more. N.A.S.

The wingless SNJ aircraft were moved out of the hangars and visible, stripped of their wings. The base was on track for full closure when tensions in Korea pointed to the danger of another war. Antisubmarine warfare, a priority once more. N.A.S.

Advancing military aviation was the focus of the Air Force Academy's 2018-2019 academic year. The academy's goal is to prepare cadets to be leaders of character, leaders in the aerospace industry, and leaders of the Air Force. The academy's motto is, "We educate and prepare cadets to serve as leaders of character, leaders in the aerospace industry, and leaders of the Air Force."

Pilots' Progress

Congratulations to these pilots who have achieved their licenses and advanced their ratings at a Glynn County airport. After the remaining squadron of advanced their ratings at a Glynn County airport.
